

EnPoWER Academic Coordinator Selections ('26-'27)

Instructions:

- You have to attempt all the questions compulsorily.
- No word limit, but responses must be well-structured, comprehensive, and thoughtful.
- You are expected to go through both the work reports given towards the end of this document.
- This assignment is a key part of the selection process and carries significant weight.
- Speak to current/former Academic Coordinators, ISAAs, and a diverse group of students, including UG researchers, to gather varied perspectives.
- *Do not use ChatGPT or any AI tools: originality and personal insight are crucial. AI-generated content will lead to disqualification.
- Use of flowcharts, diagrams, or structured formats is encouraged for clarity.
- Submissions may be typed or handwritten, but must be neatly organized and legible.
- If you are no longer interested in continuing with the selection process, you must inform the ISAA immediately and formally withdraw. Failing to do so will be considered unprofessional and may affect your consideration for future responsibilities under UGAC

Question 1:

Propose one well-thought-out new initiative for EnPoWER aimed at enhancing the research culture within the institute.

You may propose:

- An event or a series of events
- A reform to a current initiative
- A collaboration with an existing Gymkhana body for new initiatives.

Each initiative/ reform must cover the following:

1. Problem Statement & Target Audience
 - What issue are you addressing?
 - Which year will student groups benefit the most?
2. Core Idea
 - For each proposed initiative, clearly articulate the concept and outline how it would function in practice. Specify whether it is a one-time event or a long-term program, and define its key deliverables
3. Execution & Logistics
 - Who are the stakeholders involved? (UGAC coordinators, faculty, institute bodies, student volunteers)
 - Proposed timeline or academic calendar window
 - Explain the logistics involved in the execution
4. Pre and Post Publicity & Engagement Strategy
 - How would you ensure participation?
 - What media/platforms will you use to reach the target audience?
 - How would you measure if the event was successful and helpful to the audience?

Question 2:

Analyze the current state of undergraduate research at IIT Bombay based on discussions with 4–5 undergraduate students. Identify the key reasons behind limited student involvement in research, considering factors such as awareness, accessibility to opportunities and labs, student interest, and career aspirations. Further, suggest institutional steps to strengthen the research culture at IIT Bombay and explain how EnPoWER can contribute towards implementing these changes.

Question 3:

Go through the Curious Community Description from the work reports. Suggest two innovative ideas for Curious Community Sessions that can meaningfully increase student engagement with research and interdisciplinary learning at IIT Bombay. Explain the objective, format, target audience, and expected impact/footfall of each session.

Bonus Question (Design): Create an Instagram post for Curious Community that effectively promotes its vision of fostering curiosity, research engagement, and interdisciplinary learning among students at IIT Bombay. Take up one of your ideas for the same. The post should be visually appealing, informative, and aligned with the identity of Curious Community. Refer to the previous posts for all relevant details.
